Shamrocks I and III and Their Convoys Welcomed at New York by the Throats of Countless Whistles.

MUCH HANDSOMER BOAT THAN HER TWO PREDECESSORS.

Exchange of Wireless Messages with the Owner-No Accidents Marred the Voyage to This Side.

NEW YORK, June 14 .- Safe and sound after a rough passage from Gourock, Scotland, of sixteen days and twenty-two hours, | lightship. Sir Thomas Lipton's latest challenger for the America's cup, the Shamrock III, is now lying at anchor off Tompkinsville, Staten island, where she arrived at 10:20 this morning, in company with the steam yacht Erin, which had towed her most of the way across the Atlantic, and by Shamrock I, towed by the British tug Cruiser. The 156 men which manned the yachts and their convoys are all well, and there were no accidents to mar the passage. Between Gourock and Fayal, Azores, where the steamers stopped for coal, calms and squally weather were encountered. The Erin and her tow became separated from the Cruiser and Shamrock I before reaching Fayal, but they never lost sight of each other after leaving there. On June 12 the yachts were caught in a gale from the southeast, and while it blew very hard and a heavy sea was running, very little water was shipped and no damage was done.

The tug Charles E. Matthews, in charge of H. H. Davies, met the yachts at daylight twenty miles east of Sandy Hook lightship. Pilots were put aboard the Erin at sea, and the Matthews towed Shamrock III to quarantine, Shamrock I being towed by the Cruiser. The yachts passed Sandy Hook lightship soon after 6 o'clock this morning. The were saluted by every vessel that passed them all the way to quarantine. When they arrived there the crews of the yachts gave three cheers for each other as they stood lined up on deck. Both yachts flew the pennant of the Royal Ulster Yacht Club. The new challenger is a far handsomer craft than either Shamrock I or II. She looks not unlike the Columbia above the water line, and her beam seems greater than either of those yachts. She tows easily, making very little broken water at the bow and leaving a clean wake. Her cap-

STATE SUNDAY-SCHOOL ASSOCIATION TO MEET ON JUNE 23.

Elaborate Plans for Greatest Meeting in the History of the Organization-Some of the Workers.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WARSAW, Ind., June 14 .- The thirtyninth annual convention of the Indiana Sunday-school Association, will assemble at Winona Lake in a three days' session on Tuesday, June 23, probably will be the largest in point of delegate representation in the history of the state or-

W. C. Hall, of Indianapolis, president of the association, is now at Winona, where he has established state headquarters for the summer. Mr. Hall finding this temporary change from Indianapolis more convenient on account of having charge of the Sunday school throughout the entire season at the assembly grounds. He was joined here to-day by the Rev. E. W. Hai-penny, of Montreal, who was recently elected general secretary of the state association. Their offices have been established in the administration building. An unusually interesting programme has been arranged. The opening praise service will be led by the blind musician, Adam Giebel, of Philadelphia, and the "Welcome to Winona" will be by Sol C. Dickey. Then follows the response in behalf of the state association and the president's annual address by Mr. Hall, who will also introduce the recently elected general secretary, Mr. Halpenny. The closing quiet-hour service will be led by Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman. At the evening service on the opening day the themes for discussion will be "Sunday-school Evangelization," "Our Boys and Girls for Christ" and "Training the Child in Christian Service.

Wednesday's and Thursday's sessions will be devoted largely to conferences in the interest of the state, county and township work, primary and junior workers, "home department" and kindred subjects. It is proposed to bring every subject before the convention that is calculated to foster and further the interest in the Sunday schools.

On the programme are prominent workers n this and other States, among them the Rev. Dr. H. M. Hamill, superintendent of Sunday-school training work of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South; W. C. Pearce and Mary Foster Bryner, of the international staff; the Rev. B. W. Spillman, field secretary of the Sunday-school board of the Southern Baptist Convention; Mrs. D. W. Thomas, prominent in the "home department" work.

A special feature of the meeting will be the sunrise prayer service to be held on the hillside. This meeting will be led by Josiah Morris, of Rockville, Ind. As the county and township organizations throughout the State are accredited two delegates to the convention, and there is always a large number of visitors and workers aside from the delegates, an attendance of 4,000 to 6,000 is expected.

TOLD A PATHETIC STORY

VICTIMS OF THE ST. LOUIS FLOOD AT THE POLICE STATION.

Footsore and Weary Woman and Little Children Appeal to Matron Reisner-Seeking Lost Husband.

Footsore and weary, Mrs. John Miller, of East St. Louis, Ill., and her two little girls. six and eight years old, dragged themselves into the police station late last night and asked if the husband and father had been placed under arrest. When told that no such a man had been arrested Mrs. Miller sank into a chair and cried from exhaustion and despair.

Miss Reisner, the matron at the police station, questioned the woman and found that she and her family were victims of the St. Louis flood and were made homeless last | in two years. Wednesday. Mr. Miller was a poor laboring man, and had a little money saved, which he paid to the railroad company for transportation for himself and family as far as Effingham, Ill., and from there they walked to Martinsville, arriving there Saturday evening. They walked from Martinsville to Indianapolis yesterday. On arriving here, she said, her husband was so tired that he sat down in a stairway near the Union Station and fell asleep. She and the not known until later that Moore was children started out to find something to wounded. His injury is not believed to be eat, as they had not dined since leaving Effingham and were almost famished. They walked around several blocks and returned to where she thought she had left her husband, but he was gone, and, fearing that station to satisfy her mind about him.

he had been arrested, she went to the police Miss Reisner listened to the woman's tale and was deeply touched by the story, and the hungry and pinched-looking faces of the children appealed to her tender heart. She at once took up a collection around the police station and took the unfortunate woman and her children to a restaurant. where they are as if they were nearly starved. As the police station was no place to keep the unfortunates over night, Miss Reisner called up the matron of the Door of Hope over the telephone and secured lodging and a breakfast for the distressed woman and her little girls. The Charity Organization Society will investigate the case this morning, and, if possible, a comfortable home will be found for them. The police are making every effort to locate the husband, but up to a late hour last night

LAFAYETTE, Ind., June 14 .- For more than six weeks the strike of carpenters in this city has continued and to-day there one hundred miles east of Sandy Hook, is no sign of a settlement. Yesterday the men met to consider the situation and there was another meeting in Labor Temple toending the strike.

The master builders object to paying the same rate of wages to all the workmen and on this fact hinges the whole dispute. The employers demand to be allowed to pay a sliding scale, fixing the limits at 25 cents minimum and 321/2 cents maximum. Lodge Rooms and Offices Damaged by Fire at Lafayette.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. LAFAYETTE, Ind., June 14.-Defective electric wiring caused a bad blaze in Odd Fellows' Hall, on Main street, early to-day. The fire was not discovered until the flames had ruined the interior of the lodgerooms, and the firemen had a hard fight to save the large building. The fire started in the paraphernalia room, valuable regalia and other lodge property being burned. The walls and ceilings were wrecked and additional damage was done by water and smoke. Nothing is left in the lodgerooms but the debris, and below, in the law offices of Kumler & Gaylord, books and documents were damaged. Firemen, together with the law partners themselves, saved much of the property. On the first floor the Boston dry-goods store was damaged by smoke

Richmond Art Exhibit.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. RICHMOND, Ind., June 14.-The annual art exhibit here, which will open on June 16, will continue until June 30. This exhibit has proved very successful in the past and each year has attracted numerous visitors from near-by points, who are privileged to see it without cost and are given a hearty welcome by the officials. This year a cordial invitation is extended to the people of the State to attend. The prospect is that the exhibit will surpass any previous one in many ways, and the only desire of the promoters is that its immense educational value shall have as wide an influence as possible. The exhibit is public in the fullest sense. It is supported by subscriptions made by the public and by an appropriation made by the City Council, which has taken recognition of the exhibit and commended it by resolution. This year a fund of $500 has been provided through the liberality of D. G. Reid, of New York, with which one of the pictures on exhibit will be purchased. The pictures this year will come chiefly from New York, Chicago, Cincinnati, Toledo and Indianapolis.

TERRE HAUTECONGREGATIONALISTS IN THEMR FINE NEW HOUSE.

Structure Cost $30,000 and Is Dedicated Practically Free from Debt-Many Ministers Present.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TERRE HAUTE, Ind., June 14.-The nev edifice of the First Congregational Church, which was dedicated to-day, has in one of its larger windows a memorial glass for Dr. M. A. Jewett, who founded the church in 1834 and who was induced to stop in Terre Haute for the purpose by men about a tavern who admired the horse he was riding on his way from Baltimore to St. Louis to find a location as a minister of the gospel. A historian of the church has written that the people of the village were "of high character and very little professional piety," so that, while many of them had been here from New England for eighteen years, they did not build a church until the ex-sea captain, who was landlord of the tavern and "far from religious," started the movement in behalf of Mr. The horse-racing contingent liked Jewett. the minister's horse and told him if he would remain over Sunday they would get a congregation for him, which they did. The edifice dedicated to-day cost $30,000 and with the site represents a property value of $40,000, and to-day closes with practically no debt. The Gothic style of architecture was followed and the windows form a pointed arch, the whole building being in the shape of the Greek cross. The seating capacity is 700. The congregation is not a large one, perhaps 200, but it is believed to comprise more wealth than that of any other church in the city. The new church has a new pastor, the Rev. Henry from Williams College in 1885 and was admitted to the bar in Chicago, but later took the theological course at Andover. The dedicatory sermon this morning was preached by the Rev. J. H. Crum, recently removed from Kansas City to Indianapolis who was pastor here from 1889 to 1896 There were afternoon services in which many Terre Haute ministers participated and the Rev. E. D. Increased Exports of Coffee and Oranges-Projected Railway Lines-Says He Is Not About to Resign.

NEW YORK. June 14.-Governor William H. Hunt, of Porto Rico, arrived tonight on the steamer Ponce. He said there was no truth in the rumor that he would resign. Speaking of Porto Rico Governor Hunt said:

"There has been continued development in the island during the closing fiscal year. Business conditions have steadily proved and commercial relations between the Porto Ricans and the people of the United States have become greatly extended. Trade statistics show, for example, that from January to June of this year more than $500,000 worth of coffee was exported to the United States against only $21,000 worth in the same period last year. Coffee planters find encouragement in the belief that the New York market is at last opening to Porto Rico coffee, which is of unexcelled quality.

"Americans are investing largely in orange cultivation, and the value of exports in this fruit is twenty fold greater than last year. Over a half million dollars' worth of sugar has been sent north since Jan. 1. which is a heavy increase over last year.
